CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

African Rock Python

Python sebae

The African Rock Python is Africa's largest snake and one of the largest python species in the world. Characterized by its thick, muscular body and distinctive dark blotched pattern, it can grow up t…

Quick facts

Classification: Reptile
Family: Pythonidae
Habitat: Savanna, forest, and near water bodies
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 15-25 years
Weight: 45-70 kg
Scientific name: Python sebae

Did you know?

- The African Rock Python has been known to occasionally prey on crocodiles, making it one of the few snakes capable of tackling such formidable animal…
- African Rock Pythons can swallow prey up to the size of adult antelopes thanks to their highly flexible jaws. Females are attentive mothers, fiercely…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use