CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Asian Vine Snake

Ahaetulla prasina

The Asian Vine Snake is a slender, mildly venomous arboreal snake native to South and Southeast Asia. Easily recognizable by its elongated, pointed snout and brilliant green coloration, this snake is…

Quick facts

Classification: Reptile
Family: Colubridae
Habitat: Tropical rainforest and woodland
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 7-12 years
Weight: 100-180 grams
Scientific name: Ahaetulla prasina

Did you know?

- Unlike many snakes, the Asian Vine Snake has horizontal pupils, which help it gauge distances precisely when hunting among the branches.
- Asian Vine Snakes can flatten their bodies to appear larger when threatened. Their binocular vision gives them excellent depth perception for hunting…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use