

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Australian Magpie

Gymnorhina tibicen

The Australian Magpie is a medium-sized, striking black-and-white passerine bird native to Australia and southern New Guinea. Renowned for its melodious and complex song, the Australian Magpie is a h...

Quick facts

Classification: Bird

Family: Artamidae

Habitat: Open woodlands, grasslands, urban parks, and suburban areas

Diet: Omnivore

Conservation status: Least Concern

Lifespan: 6–13 years in the wild

Weight: 220–350 g

Scientific name: Gymnorhina tibicen

Did you know?

- Australian Magpies are among the most intelligent birds, capable of using tools and solving complex problems.
- Australian Magpies are famous for their beautiful, flute-like songs that vary regionally, sometimes even mimicking other birds and sounds. During the...

What I learned
