

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Barking Tree Frog

Hyla gratiosa

The Barking Tree Frog is the largest native tree frog in the southeastern United States, known for its distinctive, loud, dog-like barking call. This robust amphibian exhibits a plump, green or brown...

Quick facts

Classification: AmphibianFamily: HylidaeHabitat: Forested wetlands, pine woodlands, and cypress swampsDiet: CarnivoreConservation status: Least ConcernLifespan: 4-8 yearsWeight: 15-28 gramsScientific name: Hyla gratiosa

Did you know?

- Despite their name, Barking Tree Frogs often spend more time burrowed underground than in trees, especially during dry periods.
- Barking Tree Frogs can rapidly change their skin color to blend into their environment, ranging from bright green to dark brown. Their vocalizations ...

What I learned
