CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Bicolor blenny

Ecsenius bicolor

The bicolor blenny is a small, vibrant marine fish known for its distinct coloration, featuring a dark brown to blue-black anterior half and a bright yellow to orange posterior half. Native to the re…

Quick facts

Classification: Fish
Family: Blenniidae
Habitat: Coral reefs and rocky reef areas
Diet: Herbivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 2-4 years
Weight: 2-5 grams
Scientific name: Ecsenius bicolor

Did you know?

- Despite their small size, bicolor blennies can be territorial and will defend their chosen crevice or hole from intruders, including much larger fish.
- Bicolor blennies have unique comb-like teeth for scraping algae off rocks. They are known for their comical expressions and curious, bold behavior, o…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use