CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Budgett's Frog

Lepidobatrachus laevis

Budgett's Frog, also known as the Paraguay horned frog, is a unique amphibian native to South America. It is renowned for its bizarre, flattened appearance, wide mouth, and aggressive temperament, es…

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian
Family: Ceratophryidae
Habitat: Freshwater seasonal ponds and swamps
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 5-10 years
Weight: 90-170 grams
Scientific name: Lepidobatrachus laevis

Did you know?

- Unlike most frogs, Budgett's Frog can inflate its body and bite fiercely to deter predators.
- Budgett's Frogs are sometimes called 'Freddy Krueger frogs' because of their aggressive behavior and appearance. Their tadpoles are carnivorous and w…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use