CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Carpet Python

Morelia spilota

The Carpet Python is a large, non-venomous snake native to Australia, New Guinea, and parts of Indonesia. It is recognized for its striking pattern of dark crossbands and blotches on a lighter backgr…

Quick facts

Classification: Reptile
Family: Pythonidae
Habitat: Forests, woodlands, savannas, and suburban areas
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 15-20 years
Weight: 2-15 kg
Scientific name: Morelia spilota

Did you know?

- Despite their intimidating size, Carpet Pythons are non-venomous and pose little threat to humans.
- Carpet pythons have multiple subspecies, each with unique patterns and colors. They are excellent climbers and may be seen basking in trees or roofs.…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use