CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Collared Aracari

Pteroglossus torquatus

The Collared Aracari is a striking medium-sized toucan native to Central and northern South America. It is easily recognized by its colorful plumage, featuring a black head and chest, yellow underpar…

Quick facts

Classification: Bird
Family: Ramphastidae
Habitat: Lowland and montane tropical forests
Diet: Omnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 15-20 years
Weight: 190-275 grams
Scientific name: Pteroglossus torquatus

Did you know?

- Despite their vibrant colors and noisy calls, Collared Aracaris are often hard to spot among the dense foliage of the rainforest.
- Collared Aracaris are known to sleep in groups, sometimes cramming up to seven birds into a single tree cavity. Their large bills, though seemingly c…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use