

Name: _____ Date: _____

Dyeing Poison Dart Frog

Dendrobates tinctorius

The Dyeing Poison Dart Frog is a striking amphibian known for its vibrant blue, yellow, and black coloration, making it one of the most visually remarkable frogs in the world. Native to the rainfores...

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian

Family: Dendrobatidae

Habitat: Tropical rainforest

Diet: Carnivore

Conservation status: Least Concern

Lifespan: 5-12 years

Weight: 3-5 grams

Scientific name: Dendrobates tinctorius

Did you know?

- Despite being deadly in the wild, Dyeing Poison Dart Frogs raised in captivity are completely harmless because they do not ingest the toxic insects t...
- Dyeing Poison Dart Frogs get their name from an old belief that indigenous people used their bright skin to dye bird feathers. Their toxins are deriv...

What I learned
