CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Fiery-throated Hummingbird

Panterpe insignis

The Fiery-throated Hummingbird is a dazzling, small bird renowned for its iridescent plumage that shimmers with vibrant hues of green, blue, and fiery orange on its throat when seen in the right ligh…

Quick facts

Classification: Bird
Family: Trochilidae
Habitat: Montane cloud forests
Diet: Omnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 4-6 years
Weight: 5.5-6.5 grams
Scientific name: Panterpe insignis

Did you know?

- Despite their tiny size, Fiery-throated Hummingbirds are fiercely territorial and will chase away much larger birds from their favorite feeding spots.
- The Fiery-throated Hummingbird can appear almost entirely emerald green until sunlight hits its throat, revealing a spectrum of fiery colors. It has …

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use