

Name: _____ Date: _____

Green Poison Dart Frog

Dendrobates auratus

The Green Poison Dart Frog is a strikingly colorful amphibian native to Central and parts of South America. Its vivid green and black patterns serve as a warning to predators of its potent skin toxin...

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian

Family: Dendrobatidae

Habitat: Tropical rainforest

Diet: Carnivore

Conservation status: Least Concern

Lifespan: 4-8 years

Weight: 2-8 grams

Scientific name: Dendrobates auratus

Did you know?

- The toxicity of the Green Poison Dart Frog is entirely dependent on its wild diet—frogs raised in captivity on non-toxic prey are harmless.
- Green Poison Dart Frogs are among the most visually variable poison dart frogs, with color patterns ranging from mint green to turquoise. Their toxic...

What I learned

---

---