CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Green Tree Frog

Litoria caerulea

The Green Tree Frog is a medium-sized, bright green amphibian native to Australia and New Guinea, recognized for its smooth skin and large toe pads. This species is highly adaptable, often found near…

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian
Family: Hylidae
Habitat: Forests, wetlands, and urban areas near freshwater sources
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 10-16 years
Weight: 50-90 grams
Scientific name: Litoria caerulea

Did you know?

- The Green Tree Frog's skin secretions were once studied for potential use in developing new antibiotics due to their powerful antimicrobial propertie…
- Green Tree Frogs can change their skin color from bright green to brown depending on temperature and environment. Their skin secretes antimicrobial p…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use