CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Korean Jindo Dog

Canis lupus familiaris

The Korean Jindo Dog is a medium-sized spitz-type breed native to Jindo Island in South Korea, known for its loyalty, intelligence, and strong hunting instincts. This breed is celebrated for its clea…

Quick facts

Classification: Mammal
Family: Canidae
Habitat: Domestic environment, rural and urban settings, originally mountainous and forested areas
Diet: Omnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 12-15 years
Weight: 15-23 kg
Scientific name: Canis lupus familiaris

Did you know?

- Jindos are so loyal that some have reportedly refused food from strangers, waiting days or weeks for their owners to return.
- Jindos are renowned for their legendary homing ability, sometimes traveling hundreds of kilometers to return to their original homes. In South Korea,…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use