CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Leaf Frog

Agalychnis hulli

The Leaf Frog is a striking amphibian known for its vibrant green coloration and leaf-like appearance, which provides excellent camouflage among rainforest foliage. This nocturnal species is primaril…

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian
Family: Phyllomedusidae
Habitat: Tropical rainforest
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Vulnerable
Lifespan: 4-8 years
Weight: 8-15 grams
Scientific name: Agalychnis hulli

Did you know?

- The Leaf Frog's skin secretes a waxy substance that helps prevent dehydration in the humid but variable rainforest climate.
- Leaf Frogs can change their color slightly to better blend in with their surroundings. They lay their eggs on leaves overhanging water, so that when …

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use