CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Morogoro Tree Toad

Arthroleptis stenodactylus

The Morogoro Tree Toad is a small, terrestrial frog native to eastern Africa, particularly found in the Morogoro region of Tanzania. Despite its common name, this species spends much of its time on t…

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian
Family: Arthroleptidae
Habitat: Subtropical or tropical moist lowland forest
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 3-6 years
Weight: 2-4 grams
Scientific name: Arthroleptis stenodactylus

Did you know?

- Despite being called a 'tree toad,' this species is primarily terrestrial and seldom climbs trees.
- Morogoro Tree Toads are masters of camouflage, blending into the leaf litter to avoid predators. Unlike many amphibians, they lay their eggs on land …

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use