CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Pacific Tree Boa

Candoia bibroni

The Pacific Tree Boa is a non-venomous snake native to the Pacific islands, particularly found throughout Fiji, the Solomon Islands, and nearby archipelagos. This nocturnal, arboreal reptile is recog…

Quick facts

Classification: Reptile
Family: Boidae
Habitat: Tropical forests
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Least Concern
Lifespan: 10-20 years
Weight: 500-1,000 grams
Scientific name: Candoia bibroni

Did you know?

- Unlike many snakes, the Pacific Tree Boa spends most of its life in the trees, rarely descending to the ground except to hunt or find mates.
- Pacific Tree Boas are famous for their ability to change color slightly in response to environmental factors. They are viviparous, giving birth to li…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use