

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Perez's Frog

Pelophylax perezi

Perez's Frog, also known as the Iberian Green Frog, is a medium-sized amphibian native to the Iberian Peninsula and southern France. It is characterized by its green to olive coloration with dark spo...

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian

Family: Ranidae

Habitat: Freshwater bodies such as ponds, lakes, rivers, and marshes

Diet: Carnivore

Conservation status: Least Concern

Lifespan: 6-10 years

Weight: 20-50 grams

Scientific name: Pelophylax perezi

Did you know?

- Perez's Frog has been introduced to the Canary Islands, Madeira, and parts of the Balearic Islands, where it has established thriving populations out...
- Perez's Frog is highly adaptable and can live even in urban water bodies. It is known for its powerful jumping abilities and can leap several times i...

What I learned
