

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Przewalski's Horse

Equus ferus przewalskii

Przewalski's Horse is the last truly wild horse species on Earth, native to the steppes of Central Asia. Stocky and robust, it boasts a dun coat, erect mane, and no forelock, distinguishing it from d...

Quick facts

Classification: Mammal

Family: Equidae

Habitat: Steppe and grassland

Diet: Herbivore

Conservation status: Endangered

Lifespan: 20-25 years

Weight: 300-400 kg

Scientific name: Equus ferus przewalskii

Did you know?

- Przewalski's Horse was once considered extinct in the wild and survived only in zoos for much of the 20th century.
- Przewalski's Horse has 66 chromosomes, unlike the 64 found in domestic horses. All living Przewalski's Horses today are descendants of just a small g...

What I learned
