

Name: _____ Date: _____

Red-eyed Tree Frog

Agalychnis callidryas

The Red-eyed Tree Frog is a striking amphibian native to the rainforests of Central America, known for its vivid green body, bright red eyes, and blue and yellow striped sides. Its large, bulging eye...

Quick facts

Classification: Amphibian

Family: Phyllomedusidae

Habitat: Tropical rainforest

Diet: Carnivore

Conservation status: Least Concern

Lifespan: 5-10 years

Weight: 6-15 grams

Scientific name: Agalychnis callidryas

Did you know?

- Red-eyed Tree Frog eggs can hatch early if they sense vibrations from approaching predators, allowing tadpoles to escape danger.
- Red-eyed Tree Frogs use their vibrant colors as a startle display to confuse predators. Despite their bright coloration, they are well-camouflaged wh...

What I learned
