CREATURE ATLAS

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Steller's Sea Eagle

Haliaeetus pelagicus

Steller's sea eagle (Haliaeetus pelagicus) is the heaviest eagle in the world, with big females reaching 9 kilograms, and it carries the most massive bill of any eagle, a deep, bright yellow hook out…

Quick facts

Classification: Bird
Family: Accipitridae
Habitat: Coastal forests and river mouths
Diet: Carnivore
Conservation status: Vulnerable
Lifespan: 20-25 years
Weight: 6.8-9 kg
Scientific name: Haliaeetus pelagicus

Did you know?

- Despite its formidable size, Steller's Sea Eagle sometimes loses its catch to other eagles or even crows due to kleptoparasitism.
- It is the heaviest eagle alive, outweighing both the harpy and the Philippine eagle, though those birds have stronger feet. Lead poisoning from bulle…

What I learned

© Creature Atlas · www.creatureatlas.com · Free for classroom & personal use