

Animal Fact Sheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Suphalak Cat

Felis catus

The Suphalak is a rare and ancient domestic cat breed native to Thailand, known for its striking solid copper or reddish-brown coat. This breed is renowned for its muscular build, golden or yellow ey...

Quick facts

Classification: Mammal

Family: Felidae

Habitat: Domestic, often in homes or urban environments

Diet: Carnivore

Conservation status: Rare (Not evaluated by IUCN; breed rarity)

Lifespan: 12-16 years

Weight: 3-5 kg

Scientific name: Felis catus

Did you know?

- The Suphalak breed was long believed to be extinct, but a few individuals were rediscovered in Thailand in the late 20th century.
- The Suphalak is sometimes called the 'copper cat' due to its unique coat color. It is one of the cats described in ancient Thai manuscripts and is co...

What I learned

-----

-----